Scholarships Report

Many of our scholarship applicants do receive an ROTC Scholarship, but not all. Additionally, many times the ROTC Scholarship is awarded as a "Three Year" Scholarship that kicks in after successful completion of the freshman year. Even on a four year scholarship, there is a cap on tuition as well as books. Whereas the ROTC scholarship is usually enough to fully cover tuition at state schools, it usually does not fully cover at a private school. There are many other expenses that are not covered by the ROTC scholarships such as room and board. From last year's recipients, one did not have an ROTC scholarship and the other had a three year to kick in after the freshman year. The 2016 recipient had a four-year scholarship, but was attending a private military college. For recipients who do receive our scholarship, it is meant to help cover those expenses that may not be covered by a Service Scholarship or help to provide a bridge for those who do not have a full four year Service Scholarship.

Statistics: 17 recipients
Since 2002:
16 Entered ROTC
1 Forfeit (prior to institution of alternate procedures in 2003)

8 have been commissioned through ROTC (6 Army, 1 Army Dental Corps, 1 AF)
5 are currently enrolled in College ROTC
1 dropped out of ROTC and enlisted in the AF
1 dropped out of ROTC after 2 years
1 unknown status, last heard was a senior in ROTC and should have commissioned USAF this year
5 students entered Private Schools (Norwich, Marion Military Academy, Baylor, Our Lady of the Lake, Brigham Young)
4 of the 17 had a 4-year ROTC Scholarship; several had a 3-year.

President's Notes

CenTex MOAA – Proud of You!

Thanks to your contributions and support, CenTex MOAA has accomplished many great goals this year. We've:

- a) designed and activated our new website, including PayPal payment options,
- b) provided $2,500 in Scholarships to two deserving ROTC candidates, plus awards to High School JROTC and LT's bars and certificates to graduating ROTC cadets
- c) conducted one raffle and in process for the second raffle to raise funds for Scholarship Program

- d) conducted two of three scheduled social events – the last coming soon
- e) had superb speakers for all of our luncheons
- f) advocated for MOAA position in the State Legislative process in Austin

As we move into 2018, we must prepare by electing new officers for our Board. If you haven't been on the Board of Directors (at least in a little while) or you have skills to contribute as Secretary or Treasurer, we need you on our team! Talk with Reggie Bass. He'll be sure to connect you with the right individuals to assist or take on the role of one our superb leadership roles in the organization.

Elections will be in November. Our next speaker for the October 20th meeting at Shilo Inn will be Mr. Chris Sandles, Director/CEO of CTVHCS (Central Texas Veterans Health Care System). We'll be having a MOAA Social in the Fall, 21 October, at the Wildflower Country Club in Temple. Together, we are making a difference! Aaron M. Zook, Jr. COL, U.S. Army (Ret)

Cavalry's Legend of Fiddler's Green

Any trooper who has ever heard the trumpeter play "Boots and Saddles" will, when he has died, go to Fiddler's Green, there to drink and visit with all other cavalymen until final judgement."

"Halfway down the road to hell,
In a shady meadow green,
Are the souls of all dead troopers camped. Near a good old-time canteen. And this eternal resting place
Is known as Fiddler's Green.
Marching past, straight through to hell, The infantry are seen,
Accompanied by the Engineers,
Artillery and Marine,
For none but the shades of Cavalrymen
Dismount at Fiddler's Green.
Though some go curving down the trail To seek a warmer scene,
No trooper ever gets to hell
Ere he's emptied his canteen,
And so rides back to drink again
With friends at Fiddler's Green.
And so when man and horse go down
Beneath a saber keen, Or in a roaring charge or fierce melee
You stop a bullet clean,
And the hostiles come to get your scalp, Just empty your canteen,
And put your pistol to your head
And go to Fiddler's Green."

Army Air Force Songs 1940's

Tune of: Battle Hymn of the Republic

"By the ring around his eyeball, you can tell the bombardier. You can tell a bomber pilot by the spread of his rear. You can tell a navigator by his sexton and his maps, but you can't tell him much."

Tune of Bell Bottom Trousers

"Once there was a barmaid way down in Brewery Lane, Her master was so kind to her, her Mistress was the same, When along came a pilot, handsome as could be (me!), And he was the cause of all her misery!

Chorus:

Singing flak suits and parachutes and uniforms galore, He will fly a bomber like his Daddy did before!

Now in the morning before the break of day, He handed her a 5 pound note and to her this did say, take this my darling for all the harm I've done, "

For you may have a daughter and you may have a son. If you have a daughter, put ribbons in her hair, and if you have a son, put the bastard in the air.

Singing flak suits and parachutes and uniforms galore, He will fly a bomber Like his Daddy did before!

Now the moral of this story as you can plainly see,
Is never trust a pilot an inch above your knee.
The barmaid trusted and he went off to fly, leaving her a daughter to help the time go by.

Singing flak suits and parachutes and uniforms galore. She'll never fly a bomber like her Daddy did before."

More Songs We Know

The site of the 1862 composition of "Taps" was at Berkeley Plantation, near what is now Charles City, VA.

"Stars and Stripes Forever", the patriotic marching song composed by John Philip Sousa in 1896, was designated by Congress as the national march of the USA.

In 1916, during WWI, President Woodrow Wilson, ordered that the "Star Spangled Banner" be played at military occasions. It was adopted as the National Anthem by congressional resolution on March 3, 1931.

Member Spotlight Elaine Perry Still Serving

When Elaine Perry began her military career she little imagined that she would spend "32 years in the Army." As a senior in college her interest in the military was sparked by the opportunity to get into the Medical Technology Internship Program. She enlisted as a PFC and was accepted into the MT program. When she completed the MT certification, she served as an enlisted person for 4 years. She left active duty and went directly into 5 years as a Reservist, where she got her officer commission.

In 1985, Elaine received her active duty commission and she retired as a Colonel in 2008. Family members who served include her dad in WWII and her husband who served in Viet Nam.

One of her favorite assignments was at Letterman AMC at The Presidio of San Francisco. "I'm not a big city person, but I lived on post and it was like living in a National Park." At another favorite assignment was at Fitzsimmons AMC in Aurora, Colorado. "I loved the location" and it is where she met her husband.

She has met and made many friends in the places she has worked and enjoyed, "Halloween parties" in some places. She laughingly remembers that M&M's were considered "contraband in basic training."

As a committed medical professional to the United States of America and to the Army, she "hopes to give back" to the community through volunteering. As she says, "there are many ways with service organizations, church, community services, etc." to do this.

Elaine admits it takes confidence and the will to succeed to be in the military. "There are a number of milestones you have to meet to keep progressing, that don't always seem worthwhile." To young adults today who seek to join and serve, "there are many great opportunities, although with so many deployments, it is very hard on family life."

Elaine now works in civil service at Ft. Hood Robertson Blood Center, where she continues with the "hallmark of my life... discipline and teamwork.

CenTex MOAA

Our chapter is helping Hurricane Harvey Disaster Response efforts in Southeast Texas.

At the September meeting, more than $400 was donated by members to send to The American Red Cross and to the Good Samaritans Purse. These two the groups who are valiantly helping folks who have been affected by the devastating natural disaster.

Faith's Corner

Are you one of those people that your neighbors and friends come to when they need help or support? Are you even approachable to be there to listen, to support, to encourage? Or are you too busy, too wrapped up in work, family and your own activities to take the time to help?

God has given us the gifts of giving and receiving, to serve one another and to share our blessings, our caring, our resources to lift up others. We can lean on him in times of sorrow and trouble. As his people we can share our gifts by taking a neighbor to the doctor, a friend to the hospital, by listening to their trials and tribulations, by being compassionate to their needs when they need us. Or just to be there.

God invites us to lean on him in times of sorrow or trouble. As his people, we can take care of each other, lend our hands and share our strengths. We can give each other hope and hospitality.

Be someone who God can count on to spread his love, words of faith, and hope. Giving and receiving is part of his plan. Christians use the gifts that God gave us to serve one another.

“One nation under God”. Blessings.

WE WANT YOU!

Editor's Desk

One benefit of CenTex MOAA is keeping in touch with likeminded people who value military service to our country and who are serving or who have served in the military arena.

Submit your stories of experiences, places stationed, events during your service. War stories, events in your career, experiences with personnel, at posts, bases, airfields, aboard ships, war zones, campaigns and deployments. Humorous, factual stories are welcome. Quotable quotes are always appreciated. Especially when you can identify who said them and circumstances under which they were said.

Articles are due 2 weeks prior to the month of next issue. Try to keep your articles 700 words or less. Some contributions may be edited for length to comply with newsletter space.

Next month we start a series of articles, "The Saga of the Reluctant Pilot" written by Phillip Ray in 1940's.

Email articles to:

We Should Remember

"The hour is fast approaching, on which the Honor and Success of this army, and the safety of our bleeding country depend. Remember, officers and soldiers, that you are free men fighting for the Blessings of Liberty!" General Orders August 23, 1776 by General George Washington

The highest military rank ever bestowed upon any American, is six stars rank awarded posthumously to George Washington 1776.
